Equitas and Halliburton Settle Asbestos Insurance Claims

January 29, 2004

LONDON & HOUSTON, Jan 28, 2004 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- Equitas and Halliburton Company (NYSE:HAL) announced today that they have reached a comprehensive agreement to settle Halliburton's insurance claims against certain Underwriters at Lloyd's of London, reinsured by Equitas, as a result of which Halliburton will be paid $575 million. The settlement will resolve all asbestos-related claims made against Lloyd's Underwriters by Halliburton and by each of Halliburton's subsidiary and affiliated companies, including DII Industries, Kellogg Brown & Root and others that have filed chapter 11 bankruptcy proceedings as part of Halliburton's global asbestos settlement. Halliburton's claims against its London Market Company Insurers are not affected by this settlement.

Provided that there is final confirmation of the bankruptcy plan of reorganisation for DII Industries and the other Halliburton affiliates now in bankruptcy and no U.S. federal asbestos reform legislation is passed in the current Congress, Halliburton will be paid a total of $575 million in two payments of $500 million and $75 million (18 months later). The payment will be made on the later of January 5, 2005 or at the same time as DII and other Halliburton affiliates will be obligated to pay asbestos claimants as part of Halliburton's global asbestos settlement.

Simon Wright, Equitas' Head of Asbestos Pollution and Health Hazard Claims, said:

"The settlement with Halliburton caps what is, by far, the largest single direct liability faced by Equitas. This major settlement is yet another example of Equitas' commitment to resolving claims with all Lloyd's policyholders as expeditiously as is reasonably possible and at fair values. Both we and Halliburton will continue to review the underlying asbestos claims that will be paid on confirmation of the bankruptcy plan as part of Halliburton's global asbestos settlement."

With completion of this settlement, Equitas has now resolved 5 of its 10 largest asbestos exposures. Glenn Brace, Equitas' Claims Director, said: "We were able to settle them after tough negotiations in which both sides looked very carefully at their assets and liabilities before settlement was reached." Brace added, "We have had some of the most sophisticated businesses in the world on the other side of the negotiation table. We are willing to have similar discussions with any of our policyholders, large or small, so long as they are sincerely interested in reaching a realistic settlement."

"This settlement demonstrates the strength and scope of our insurance asset," said Dave Lesar, Halliburton Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Even with this settlement we do not foresee a reduction in our insurance receivable. We are very pleased that this portion of our insurance asset has recognized the potential risk of our claims and moved in a responsible manner to resolve them. We hope other insurers will respond in a similar manner, so that those who will benefit from the Trust will be able to receive payment and move forward with their lives."
