Halliburton Names Joseph F. Andolino, Senior Vice President, Tax

December 17, 2010

HOUSTON, Dec 17, 2010 (BUSINESS WIRE) --

Halliburton (NYSE: HAL) announced today that Joseph F. Andolino will join Halliburton as senior vice president of Tax, effective January 1, 2011. Andolino is a tax attorney and brings more than 32 years of experience in international, domestic and strategic tax arenas to his new role at Halliburton.

Andolino most recently served as Vice President, Tax for Goodrich Corporation where he analyzed and executed dozens of investment transactions, joint venture deals and partnerships. Prior to that his tenure at Goodrich, he served in leadership roles at both Coltec Industries and AlliedSignal.

Andolino will report to Mark McCollum, Halliburton's executive vice president and chief financial officer.

"We're pleased that Joe Andolino will be joining Halliburton," McCollum said. "Joe brings a wealth of experience from major industrial corporations in the areas of tax, mergers and acquisitions, as well as experience in business development. I am certain he will be key to our efforts to enhance our systems and processes as we continue to align our business model with the global growth opportunities Halliburton has going forward."
