Halliburton Earns High Rankings in Dow Jones Sustainability Indices

September 19, 2013

HOUSTON--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sep. 18, 2013-- Halliburton (NYSE: HAL) is proud to announce its recognition for the fourth consecutive year in corporate sustainability leadership by the Dow Jones Sustainability Indices (DJSI), exceeding the industry average in all three categories of Economic, Environmental and Social performance.

Halliburton received industry best scores for Risk and Crisis Management, Releases to the Environment, Human Capital Development, and Talent Attraction and Retention. Additionally, perfect scores were awarded to Halliburton for Releases to the Environment and Human Capital Development.

DJSI scores are based on comprehensive assessments that evaluate the overall performance of leading sustainability-driven companies worldwide. The information provides asset managers with reliable and objective benchmarks to manage sustainability portfolios.

"Halliburton sets high standards for its global operations, and I'm proud that we are among the world's leaders in corporate responsibility and sustainability," said Dave Lesar, Halliburton's chairman, president and CEO. "Corporate responsibility and sustainability are at the core of Halliburton's long-term success, and they are embedded throughout our business."
